2015 DIRECTOR'S ANNUAL REPORT PRESENTED TO ST. CLAIR CATHOLIC BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Trustees of the St. Clair Catholic District School Board have received the 2015 Director's Annual Report.

"This year my report has a brand new look," says Dan Parr, Director of Education. "This new format reflects the Board's desire to report to Trustees, parents and other stakeholders on our success in meeting the targets identified under our strategic plan."

The report card-style report lists the Board's strategic priorities, goals, desired results and targets for the 2014-2015 school year. It also clearly identifies whether those targets were achieved or exceeded; or goals were not met.

"In many areas we have exceeded our expectations and in other areas we have achieved our goals; however, there are some targets where we still have work to do," says Mr. Parr. "We will focus on those areas in the coming weeks and months."

Mr. Parr pointed out to Trustees that overall, progress has been good.

Trustees are pleased with the new annual report and look forward to using it as one of many tools available to them to track the organization's progress towards achieving its strategic goals.

Section 283(3) of the education act requires the Director of Education to submit annually to the Board of Trustees and to the Minister of Education a report on the Board's activities. The 2015 report of the St. Clair Catholic District School Board focuses on the three pillars of the strategic plan – living our faith; promoting educational achievement and innovation; and fostering stewardship, leadership and social justice

The full report will now be forwarded to the Ministry of Education. It is available on the Board's website at www.st-clair.net and will be printed and distributed in hard copy to all schools and parish partners.
